Up for a Challenge?

The Nevada Registry unveiled a new activity at the 2017 NevAEYC Conference that they hope will become an annual tradition. It's an Early Childhood version of the pin exchange that most of us have seen, and probably participated in, at Disneyland!

Be a part of a fun and exciting Disney-esque "competition" at the upcoming NevAEYC Conference. The Nevada Registry is challenging ALL vendors to design a pin representing their company or to purchase one of the many pre-made, fun ECE-related pins currently available on the market to pass out to conference attendees. For an extra bit of fun, one vendor will be presented with a special prize from The Nevada Registry.

We are encouraging conference attendees to wear their lanyard and pins at every future NevAEYC conference as a way to show off ALL the conferences they have attended and to exchange pins with fellow conference-goers. Not only will this be fun, it'll also be a great way for ECE professionals to interact with colleagues from around the state!

Join the fun! The more vendors participating, the more fun it will be for conference attendees. We hope we can count on you!

Let the pin exchange begin!
